

NEW MEMBERS, PAID SECRETARY DECIDED UPON

Chamber of Commerce to Put On Big Mem- bership Campaign.

The Dixon Chamber of Commerce is to have a paid secretary and will become a new, more energetic, larger and more effective organization within a very short time if the citizens of Dixon give proper support—which no doubt they will—to a movement inaugurated last evening at a meeting of the enlarged board of directors of that body.

A big membership campaign, to be completed December 8th, a big meeting of members at that time and the election of a new board of directors, with new officers and new committees, and the decision to employ a secretary was the outcome of the meeting called last evening by Col. Brinton, president of the local civic body.

Raise Annual Dues.

The directors voted to amend the by-laws so as to fix the annual dues at $10 per membership, and with the further recommendation that all local concerns subscribe to as many memberships as their size warrants.

Directorate Is Enlarged.

At a recent meeting, the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce was enlarged to 27, and the enlarged directorate met at the call of the president last evening. It is the expressed proposal of this directorate that as soon as the membership of the organization is built up, that there is to be a new election of directors and a complete reorganization. The old board of directors inaugurated this plan with the idea that with the growth of the city and the increased responsibilities of the Chamber of Commerce a wider sphere should be encompassed, so as to embrace the many and various interests of the city, its growth and welfare.

Have Done Good Service.

At last evening's meeting, E. B. Raymond, who for many years has given liberally of his time and energy as secretary, and who is anxious to be relieved of these duties because of the press of his personal business, and who says that he is convinced that the duties of the office of secretary are such that Dixon could well afford to employ a man to give them all his time, read from his records some of the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce and the old Dixon Citizen's Association. He gave but a brief summary of some of the greater things these bodies have done for Dixon. The meeting passed a resolution asking that a complete history of the activities of the organization and a complete account of all its transactions be prepared for publication.

No Paid Organizer.

The question of employing an organizer to come to Dixon and manage the campaign for members was discussed, and discarded. It was the sense of the meeting that the local residents could manage the campaign effectively themselves and with better results, financially and otherwise. To this end a Membership Campaign Committee was elected by the meeting.

Membership Committee.

The committee elected to manage the campaign for new members for the Chamber of Commerce is empowered in all necessary aid and is expected to wind up its campaign by December 8. The committee is as follows:

Brinton Going West.

Col. Brinton started last night that he was leaving Dec. 15 for California and would not return until May 1, and that he could not serve longer as president of the body, but that he intended to keep an active interest in the affairs of the city where he has built up a big investment and spent so much time in active work for the city's progress. It is well recognized that Col. Brinton is probably more responsible than any other man for the improvement and progress of the city during the past few years.

Spirit of Progress.

It was very noticeable at last night's meeting that the members appeared enthusiastic concerning Dixon's future and that there was manifested a very determined spirit to shove Dixon to the fore. In this movement toward a bigger and better and more active Chamber of Commerce, the new directors and the old joined in harmonious support.

Need More Industries.

Col. Brinton stated in his opinion there was but one thing that would give Dixon a chance to grow, and that was more industries. He said that if we are to double Dixon's population the only way to do it is to get new factories, good ones, and locate them here.

The housing proposition, Col. Brinton believes, is largely up to the various industries of the city. He thinks they should take the lead in building more homes for prospective residents to live in.

SEARCH LOVE LETTERS OF SLAIN LAWYER FOR CLEW TO HIS MURDERER

Alleged Witness to Slaying is Held by Chicago Authorities.

A man who is said to have admitted that he was a witness to the murder of Attorney James P. Gallagher, formerly of Sterling, in Chicago Friday night, was taken into custody last night by detectives from State's Attorney Hoynes' office, and after he had answered several questions propounded by Chief Investigator Wilson, he was ordered held as a witness to the crime. His name was withheld by the Chicago authorities.

The Chicago authorities are also delving into a packet of typewritten love letters, filled with quotations from the love lyrics of Thomas Moore, and well thumbed from repeated perusal, hoping to find therein a motive for the murder.

The letters were written by Gallagher to a woman he called "Sue," and were returned to him, possibly because she was to be married to another man. The letters intimate that an engagement had existed and had been broken.

The woman's full name, as well as that of "the other man," are in the possession of Morris Wilson, chief investigator for State's Attorney Hoynes.

Promises Quick Arrest.

"There will be an arrest in the case soon," said Mr. Wilson. "A man will be taken into custody as soon as my detectives locate him. Detectives are waiting at the woman's home for her return. We are convinced she has not left the city."

The "Sue" of the letters is the woman described by Mrs. Catherine Stehle, 1236 Columbia avenue, Chicago, and At-

BROTHER OF DIXON WOMAN DIED IN EAST

Mrs. Ira Lewis, of the Nachusa Tavern, received word Monday of the death of her brother, Cyrus Williams, at his home in Brookfield, Mo., that morning. He was eighty years old the past April and had been ill for some time. He was born in 1839 in Oxford, Canada, and lived for a good many years near Dixon, farming one of the outlying farms. Besides his sister, Mrs. Lewis, of this city, and his nieces, the Misses Battie and Florence Mulkins, and nephew, Charles Mulkins, of this city, he is survived by his son, Cyrus Williams, Jr., and six grandchildren, all of Brookfield, Mo. His wife was Lucy Crabtree, sister of the late Judge Crabtree. Mrs. Lewis visited her brother in Brookfield last spring.

REV. SIMPSON GETS SALARY INCREASE

Rev. John A. Simpson at the completion of one year of service as pastor of the Baptist church has had his salary increased by the congregation $200 for the coming year. The members of the church are pleased by the fact that real progress has been made both in the organization and in the activity of the church during the past year. The pastor was recently elected president of the Rock River Valley Ministers' Alliance, composed of about sixty ministers, who hold semi-annual meetings in Dixon and Sterling.

CABINET HOLDS SESSION OVER COAL SITUATION

Operators Score Mc- Adoo for "Mislead- ing Statement."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 25.—Investigations of the current tax returns of both the coal mine owners and miners was advocated today in an open telegram from the operators, to Former Secretary McAdoo, replying to his recent message saying the operators' income tax returns for 1917 indicated excessive profits.

Conditions in 1917 were "abnormal," the message said, but it asserted Mr. McAdoo was ignorant of conditions in 1918 and 1919, adding that his message on present conditions "carries on weight and requires no answer."

The telegram said Mr. McAdoo's "misleading statements and insinuations are the kind of stuff which bolshevism breeds upon."

"Whatever your purpose," it adds, "it is in exceedingly bad taste for you, a former member of the cabinet of the present administration, to inject yourself into the present tense situation in a manner which can only embarrass and handicap those officers of the government who are now bending every effort to work out a solution of the mine wage controversy."

The telegram was signed: "Bituminous Coal Operators, By T. T. Brewster, A. M. Ogle and T. W. Guthrie."

CABINET SESSION

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Wilson's cabinet expected to reach a decision today on the wage controversy between the bituminous coal miners and operators that would send the miners back to work.

Before entering the meeting, Attorney General Palmer said that if the figures as to operators' profits given yesterday by Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo were correct, it was not likely that Fuel Administrator Garfield would permit an increased price for coal. Any wage advances granted, it was intimated, would have to come out of operators' profits.

Dr. Garfield took to the cabinet meeting bituminous coal production cost figures prepared by R. V. Norris, engineer for the fuel administration during the war, who has been bringing up to date the cost sheets. These figures were expected to furnish the basis for an agreement in the cabinet as to the amount of the wage increase the operators would be called upon to bear.

Operators and miners spent two hours in conference today without breaking the deadlock as to wages. Leaders on both sides said the negotiations would not be continued after the cabinet had acted.

SITUATION WORSE.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 25.—Closing of additional manufacturing plants in the middle west, with others placed on a further curtailed fuel ration, and lessening of production even in the mines which have been worked since the strike of approximately 425,000 bituminous coal miners went into effect 25 days ago was in prospect today. A ray of hope, the first tangible one to penetrate the gloom of the steadily growing menace of a coal shortage since the workers disregarded the strike recall order of their acting president, entered the situation, however, with consideration of the strike question by President Wilson's cabinet, with possible reference of the whole difficulty to the chief executive.

Miners Stand Idle.

From none of the great production fields came an indication today that the miners had altered their disposition to await an agreement by the operators. Miners conference at Washington. In Wyoming and Oklahoma there was a prospect of production being resumed, and in West Virginia, where the greatest quantity of fuel has been brought out since the strike started, use of state troops to curb radicals was expected to permit regaining the five per cent loss of production reported yesterday.

The Wyoming miners were to return today after a one-day strike and in Oklahoma Gov. Robertson predicted mining operations would be started again on the state prison farm either today or tomorrow.

Many Plants Shut Down.

Indiana factories and public utilities today were operated on a greatly reduced basis, steps to conserve the short coal supply being more drastic than in the Chicago vicinity, where many plants have closed. A wave of crime that followed cutting off of street illumination in Chicago caused revocation of that order. Enough fuel for 25 days, if used only for necessities, remains in Chicago, it was stated.

POLICE WATCH PIGS; MAY HAVE BEEN BLIND

A mysterious looking auto truck was watched yesterday by Dixon and Sterling police, but escaped the officials of both cities. The truck pulled into one of the local garages early yesterday morning, with two men in the cab. The back of the truck was built in double-deck style and was heavily screened in. The two decks contained about a hundred small pigs weighing around fifty pounds apiece. When the two strangers left the truck, one of the garage employees noticed that it carried no license tags. Upon further investigation he discovered that the engine number had been defaced to the extent that it could not be made out.

The matter was reported to the police but not until the strangers had left the city, supposedly for Sterling. The Sterling police were notified by telephone but evidently did not apprehend the outfit as the local authorities received no response to their information.

SUPREME COUNCIL IN IMPATIENT NOTE ASKS WHY GERMANS DELAY

Dr. Simson's Departure from Paris Rouses Ire of Peace Conference.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Nov. 25.—Surprise at the departure of Dr. Simson, head of the plenipotentiaries sent by Germany to this city in connection with the armistice protocol, was expressed in a note addressed to Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation at Versailles by the Supreme Council last night.

If the treaty of Versailles is not put into force by Dec. 1, the note adds, the responsibility will lie with the German government, as the departure of Dr. Simson inevitably delays further conferences which must be held. Dr. von Lersner is asked to state what are the intentions of the German government.

It was learned today that von Lersner sent a letter to Secretary Dutasta of the peace conference last Friday to the effect that the head of the plenipotentiaries had become convinced, after the consultations he had in Paris, that he must consult the German government regarding the protocol, especially as the national assembly would have to approve the decisions reached.

Prisoners Cause Trouble.

The von Lersner letter protested against the question of the repatriation of prisoners again being bound up with that of putting the treaty into effect, it being pointed out that the allied governments had previously separated these issues. If the promise of France was not kept, the letter declared, German public opinion would not have confidence in any further promise France might make. The letter in this connection drew attention to an article published recently in the Press De Paris on the surrender of war criminals.

Doubt German Sincerity.

Premier Clemenceau, as president of the Peace Conference, replied on Saturday, saying that von Lersner's letter made him question if the treaty could be put into force on December 1, owing to the German government's action, although that government had known the contents of the protocol since Nov. 1.

The delay, said M. Clemenceau, would be regrettable, as it might raise doubts of the sincerity of Germany's intentions regarding the execution of the engagements made in the armistice and the peace treaty.

Baron von Lersner, M. Clemenceau continued, was incorrect in saying that France had made or broken a promise. The Supreme Council's agreement to the release of German prisoners was conditional on fulfillment by Germany of the terms of the armistice; Germany had only to sign the protocol and repatriation would commence. M. Clemenceau added a postscript expressing regret at the departure with Simson of the experts who had arrived three days before to regulate all questions. This, M. Clemenceau asserted, was only explainable as the sign of the wish of Germany to delay definite ratification.

FEAR WAR OVER ADRIATIC SOON, JUGO-SLAVS HOT

Say Jugo-Slavs Have Lost Patience—League Must Interfere.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Geneva, Monday, Nov. 24.—Telegrams received by the Serbian Bureau at Berne from Belgrade, Zara and Spalato convey the impression that only prompt interference by the allies can prevent war over the Adriatic as the Jugo-Slavs are said to have lost patience and to be ready to fight the Italians.

"We are astonished that the peace conference permits our people to endure constant Italian persecutions," says one Belgrade paper received here. "Our peaceful attitude is praiseworthy when we might have thrown D'Annunzio and his filibusters into the sea."

Another newspaper accuses Italy of desiring to blockade Jugo-Slavia's exports and imports and thus "strangle her." A third repeats recent reports that reign of terror prevails Zara, that everybody must wear a brassard inscribed "Italy or death" or be badly treated and that Slavs are afraid to leave their houses.

TRACE ABSCONDING CHICAGO BANKER TO DIXON; LOSE TRACK OF HIM AS DIXON TAXI CAB DRIVER DISAPPEARS; POLICE COUPLE ALL CIRCUMSTANCES

BULLETIN.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, in telephone communication with Chicago, The Telegraph was informed that Otto Watts, Dixon's missing taxi driver, spent last night at the Plaza Hotel in Peoria, and at the hour of phoning was on his way home. The Telegraph was informed that Watts took one male passenger to Peoria, but that it is not believed there it was Miles.

A new theory with Chicago authorities is that Miles, after leaving the train here Saturday morning, did not remain in this city, but left on a later train that day.

BULLETIN.

Early yesterday morning Otto Watts, whose disappearance is suspected of having some connection with the flight of James M. Miles, former Chicago banker, told Michael Keenan of the Douglas Lumber Co., Douglas, Ill., that he expected to make an auto trip to Peoria later in the morning and was not sure of the road.

The Telegraph gained this information from Mr. Keenan over the long distance telephone this afternoon. The Douglas man, formerly a resident of this city, had been here to see his brother, James, who is in the Dixon hospital recovering from injuries received in a recent fall, and he says that Watts took him to the depot to get the Peoria passenger, and while en route there told him that he expected to leave for Peoria in a couple of hours and did not know the road.

Mr. Keenan did not see the taxi man's prospective passengers nor did Watts state who they were to be, he says. The last he saw of Watts was at the North-Western station when he paid his fare for transportation to the depot.

Chicago and Dixon authorities are searching blindly for some trace of James M. Miles, absconding Chicago banker, who has been traced as arriving here Saturday morning from that city, and of Otto Watts, 324 East Second street, taxi driver for his brother, Earl R. Watts, who left the barn on Third street at about 9 o'clock yesterday morning and who has not been heard of since. Investigations conducted by Chicago detectives, Dixon police and newspaper men have failed to disclose the whereabouts of either man, and there is a suspicion that the fugitive banker may have engaged the taxi driver to get him out of town.

When Mr. Watts left his brother's taxi barn early Monday morning with the simple announcement that he had an all-day country trip no unusual importance was attached to his declaration and no curiosity was manifested when he did not state where he was going, as it is not uncommon for drivers at the barn to be engaged for trips which take them out of the city all day.

No Word From Watts.

But later, when it became known that Miles had been traced to Dixon, suspicion that the taxi passenger had been the missing banker was felt; and when the night and morning passed with no word having been received from Watts by his brother or his wife their anxieties increased, for always, heretofore, when the driver had been kept away over night he had notified them.

The first intimation the Dixon authorities had that the missing banker had been in Dixon was received yesterday morning when Detectives Raynor and Knox, of Cook County State's Attorney's office arrived in this city. At their request the object of their visit to the city was not made public last evening, but the information was given out by Attorney Hoynes during the night.

Where Did He Stay?

The investigation of the detectives brought them information indicating that Miles had arrived in Dixon at 10:20 o'clock Saturday morning; but most careful search in this city had failed to show where he stayed, if he remained here, nor is there any evidence of his leaving the city.

The unusual circumstances of Mr. Watts' departure early yesterday morning with a passenger whom none of the employees at the garage had seen, his failure to return or report up until early this afternoon and the loss of all trace of the fugitive after his reported arrival here are all that the authorities have learned, and until Watts can be located and the identity and destination of his all-day passenger determined the investigation here is at a standstill.

Search Started Monday

Detectives William Gaynor and Patrick Knox of the office of States Attorney Hoynes, of Cook county, arrived in Dixon at 10:20 a. m. yesterday in their pursuit of the fleeing banker, and here they met the first serious obstacle. For hours the trail was lost, and when it was picked up it was in belief that he had left Dixon early Monday morning with Otto Watts, driver for his brother Earl Watts. The taxi driver had stopped at the barn on Third street at about 3:30 o'clock, had filled his machine with gasoline and oil and had left, telling barn employees that he had an all-day country trip. He did not tell any of them where he was going and since he had no passenger in the car when he stopped to get fuel it is evident he had made the appointment with his fare and had picked him up later. The call for the all day trip was not made over the telephone at the Watts' barn, employees there declare; and this circumstance indicates that Mr. Watts and his passenger, whom the authorities suspect was Miles, had made personal arrangements for the trip on the street or at the hotel.

Detectives "Stockmen"

When Detectives Knox and Gaynor arrived in Dixon they presented their credentials to Chief of Police Van Bibber who volunteered his services. He introduced the investigators as "stockmen from Polo," and persisted in that contention even to newspaper men who had reasonable grounds for suspecting the identity of the visitors and their purpose here.

Fugitive Banker Traced to Dixon

Finally the detectives wished on them by the Dixon chief and enlisted the aid of Evening Telegraph representatives. From noon until after midnight the two Chicago operatives, the local police and newspaper men searched thoroughly for clues to corroborate the evidence that Miles had been in Dixon, and in an effort to ascertain when he had left the city, and his destination.

No Word From Watts

However, Otto Watts did not return nor did he send any word to the garage or to his wife, and pending his return local investigation was practically at a standstill. At 1 o'clock this afternoon nothing had been heard from the missing taximan, and his family and friends had become greatly concerned over his long absence.

Traced to Dixon

The trail of the fugitive from Chicago to Dixon was easily followed. It was learned that Friday night, after his peccadilloes had been discovered, Miles had engaged an automobile at the Blackstone garage, Chicago, to take him to Aurora. He arrived in Aurora Saturday morning and dismissed the automobile. At Aurora he engaged another machine to take him to DeKalb, but hard luck overtook them at Maple Park, when the automobile broke down. Here Miles exhibited great nervousness, the detectives learned, and told the chauffeur that if he could avoid it he did not wish to take a train. He attempted to get passage to DeKalb in passing automobiles, but failed in this, and therefore took the first westbound electric car on the Aurora-DeKalb line.

Made Dash For Train

At DeKalb he went to the Redmond Cab Co., garage and engaged a machine and driver to carry him to Rochelle, Thomas Fagan being assigned by the proprietor to make the trip. On the way to Rochelle Miles told Fagan that it was imperative that he be in Clinton, Ia. by 5 o'clock (that Saturday) evening. At Rochelle he tried to get another car to make the trip from that city to Dixon and failing he offered Fagan $20 to complete the trip to this city.

But bad roads caused Fagan to determine to abrogate his bargain and at Ashton he told his passenger he could go no further. The auto had been stopped near the Northwestern passenger station in Ashton and as they were talking train No. 5 due in Dixon at 10:20 a. m. pulled into the station. The fugitive at once made a break for the station and as he reached it the train started to pull out, but Miles dashed after it, climbed onto the steps and pounded on the vestibule door, which had been closed.

The conductor opened it and the passenger paid a cash fare to Dixon. The same train crew was on the train Monday and when asked by the Chicago detectives if they had seen the runaway banker, whose picture was shown them, both conductor and brakeman remembered him distinctly, the fact that he had run for the train, had paid cash fare to Dixon and had appeared exceedingly nervous during the trip to this city fastening the incident with clearness in their minds.

Covered Tracks Here

In Dixon Miles was able to cover his tracks, and he probably got the first sleep in this city he had since Friday morning, for it has been established that he rode all Friday night. None of the taxi men in Dixon yesterday recalled having gotten the man at the depot; but Otto Watts was known to have made that train Saturday morning, and his absence all day yesterday, all night and this morning made it impossible to question him.

All of the hotels, rooming houses, restaurants and barber shops were visited yesterday afternoon, but until late in the afternoon no trace of the fugitive could be found. Then two of the waitresses at the Nachusa Tavern, after viewing his picture, remembered having served him Saturday and Sunday, and Forrest Paddock, a driver for the Watts' Taxi Line, recalled having seen the man sitting in a rocking chair in the lobby at the Nachusa Tavern Sunday afternoon. Paddock says the fellow was apparently very nervous, and continued rocking back and forth, taking no part in the discussions being carried on by hotel patrons, and furtively studying each new arrival at the hotel.

Question "Identification"

However there is a possibility that these "identifications" may be simply cases of mistaken identity. G. L. Wilson of Monmouth, who has been at the Tavern since the middle of last week states that one of a partnership of tractor salesmen, W. D. Morlan and W. O. Smith of Galesburg, both of whom he knows casually and both of whom were at the Tavern from Tuesday until Saturday noon, looks very much like Miles.

One of these men (Mr. Wilson is not sufficiently acquainted with them to know which) has high forehead, is inclined to baldness and otherwise bears some resemblance to the published picture of the missing banker. Since every man who has registered at the Tavern since Saturday morning can be accounted for, the officers are inclined to think the "identifications" reported are based on mistaken identity.

But with these discoveries the search came to a temporary standstill here, pending the receipt of word from, or the return of Otto Watts. The authorities were confident the missing banker had been his passenger when he left Dixon early Monday morning, but until it is learned to what destination he was engaged to carry his passenger no further steps can be taken from this center.

Played Hard of Trade

Miles is being sought on a charge of misuse of funds of the Standard Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, of which he was vice president, and it is said the shortages suffered by his own and other Chicago banks with which he dealt, will amount to $200,000. He was discharged from his position with the Standard Trust & Savings Bank last week, when his peccadilloes became known, and the authorities fear he will commit suicide before he is apprehended.

Borrowed From Friends

According to George T. Kenny, secretary to State's Attorney Hoynes, Miles obtained money from many of his best friends during the last week in a vain effort to conceal his shortage with the Standard Trust and Savings Bank and others. From one of his friends he borrowed $10,000. A brother-in-law furnished $4,000, and a physician, an intimate acquaintance, gave up $5,000.

The great bulk of the loan will be divided between a number of important loan banks, it was predicted. Two of these were declared at the state's attorney's office to be the Northern Trust company and the National City bank.

Miles would take from the vaults of the Standard Trust and Savings bank gilt edged municipal or industrial bonds. He would present them at another bank as his property and because of his wide acquaintance among bankers obtain an immediate loan of nearly their face value.

Played Market Short

The money he used to cover his margins in the stock market, where for weeks he sold short on industrial stocks, among which was Crucible Steel. According to his friends, he was "tipped" months ago that the stock market was due for a violent fall and day after day he covered rising margins with stolen money, hoping for the break which finally came only after he had hopelessly involved himself and was forced to "let go" of his margins.

While using the money for trading purposes he found it necessary to return the "borrowed" securities to the vaults of his bank. He would then go to the institution where the securities were held against his loan, explain that he had found a ready sale for the particular type of securities, and get them back on a trust receipts backed by the promise that he would substitute another batch of securities for the first.

Covered for Months

By this process of endless substitution Miles managed to cover up his stealings for several months, until C. H. Meyer, examiner for the Chicago Clearing House association, became suspicious.

A week ago Meyer found a trust receipt for a batch of industrial bonds in another bank. The same bonds, represented by the receipts, he later discovered with the Standard Trust and Savings bank. He then ordered an investigation, and Miles disappeared.

German Editor Sees Politics in Treaty

By Associated Press Leased Wire.
Berlin, Sunday, Nov. 23.—Failure by the United States senate to ratify the treaty between the allied powers and Germany is considered the result of partisan politics by Die Zeit.

"We must accustom ourselves to the fact that the peace treaty upon which, for us, life and future depend, is treated in America largely as a political party matter," says the newspaper.

"Not because the treaty displeased the republicans, who were more inimical to Germany than the democrats, nor because they find the conditions too hard for Germany do they condemn it, but because the democratic leader signed the treaty and they wish to discredit him and his party in the coming elections."

It is plain now that President Wilson had no right to act as the protagonist

Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, commander of the fleet, reviewed the crew in the Hudson. Sweepers, submarine chasers and trawlers removed 50,000 mines planted in an area of 250 square miles of the North Sea. The work began on April 29, 1919, and ended in September. During the operations some of the craft were damaged by explosives and many men were injured.

Chest Colds, Coughs and Sore Throat Go Over Night

Begy's Mustarine is Better Than Liniments, Plasters, Poultices or Hot Water Bottles. Does the Work in Half the Time.

Remember the terrible Influenza Epidemic last year.

The demand for Begy's Mustarine was so enormous, that stocks in retail stores and wholesale warehouses disappeared with amazing speed.

Get a box now—or two boxes, you can't tell what will happen.

But just as soon as your throat gets sore or you feel that tightening in the chest.

Rub on Begy's Mustarine for nothing on this earth will subdue inflammation, and prevent congestion, quicker than this great and first improvement on the old fashioned Mustard plaster.

It's the quickest pain killer known, so be sure when you even suspect pleurisy, bronchitis or tonsillitis, to use it freely.

It won't blister not even the tenderest skin—it can't blister.

But it's hot stuff, and contains more concentrated, non-blistering heat, than any other counter-irritant in existence.

That's why it goes right after pains and aches, soreness and swellings, no matter where located and ends all the misery and distress so quickly, that sufferers are joyfully astonished.

Use Begy's Mustarine, always in the yellow box, to ease the pain of rheumatism and gout.

Just rub it on for lame muscles, sore feet, stiff neck, cramps in leg, sprains and strains.

Get out the box promptly when you have neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, back ache, headache, earache, toothache, or any ache anywhere.

Be sure it's Begy's Mustarine, made of real yellow mustard and other pain destroying ingredients. Druggists announce return of money if it doesn't do as advertised. One box equals 50 blistering plasters.

The address followed a parish supper. Mr. Gibson spoke of the value of the tithing system in church work with authority born out by personal activity. A business man, he divides his time and income according to Biblical injunction. WAR AND FOOD.

The Department of Agriculture says that the corn crop this year will be 2,910,350,000 bushels as compared with 2,582,814,000 bushels last year and an average of 2,749,349,000 for the 1913-1917 period.

The wheat crop this year is estimated at 918,471,000 bushels as compared with 917,000,000 last year and an average of 709,634,000 bushels from 1913 to 1917.

This increase over last year and over the average for the five-year period is an encouraging factor in the present effort to lower the high cost of living.
The law of supply and demand being blamed for present high prices it is cheerful to learn that, even if the demand of the world for food is not lessened, at least the United States is doing its best to increase the supply. Europe, although only partly emerged from the effects of war, will show an increase in the production of foodstuffs this year and as conditions become nearer normal, production will mount. Eight million deaths in war, and hundreds of thousands of deaths from disease and privation as a result of the conflict, have served to preserve the world from a terrible famine—horrible as the suffering has been. The Malthusian theory holds that the power of population to increase is infinitely greater than the power in the earth to produce sustenance for man and that nature imposes checks to maintain the balance. If this theory be true, war provided the means of equalizing the population of the earth while it was reducing the production of food. War without the deaths of its millions of brave victims would have meant—according to the Malthusian hypothesis—the slow but certain starvation of the world.—

WHY LAST NIGHT'S AUDIENCE AT OPERA HOUSE WAS SO COMPLETELY MYSTIFIED. BETSY LANE SHEPHERD WAS INSIDE THE PHONOGRAPH IN ALL EXCEPTING PHYSICAL PRESENCE

At first reading, the story of the New Edison's performance last night at the opera house seems fraught with mystery.

But the explanation is simple enough.

First, get a picture of what happened. Miss Shepherd sang Home, Sweet Home. She stopped after the first few lines, but her voice flowed on without a break. No one ever noticed she had stopped—until some eyes, keener than the rest, saw her lips were still. It was only then that realization dawned. The audience found it had been listening to the New Edison.

To every ear, the two voices, living and RE-CREATED, had been without a shade of difference.

That was what so mystified the audience. They had expected the RE-CREATED art to betray its phonographic origin. It was a step too advanced for their comprehension that this instrument should be all that Miss Shepherd is, excepting her physical presence.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

This extraordinary proof is the only means through which people learn to appreciate the true powers of the New Edison. If you are interested in music, it is indeed unfortunate that you were not present.

Yet, you know this is a test which no other phonograph dares to attempt. It is proof that no one can evade or deny.

The New Edison is the only phonograph which RE-CRE-ATES music and the soul of music.

Come in and hear it for yourself.

*The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $285 (in Canada $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

forney Samuel G. Muffett, former law partner of the murdered man. Whether the man sought is her husband or merely an acquaintance, Mr. Wilson would not say. He predicted, however, that the man would be in custody soon and that he is known to have direct information as to the identity of the slayer.

"Two Reasons for Living."

The letters, tied with a bit of blue baby ribbon, indicate Gallagher was deeply in love with "Sue." In some of them he called her "Merry Sunshine." In one he said:

"Candidly, Sue, I have but two reasons for living. One is stated above—to make you happy. The other, to be made happy by you."

Another excerpt, apparently written after they had been apart for some time reads:

"I suppose that you, a girlie who could, if she would, transform my loneliness into happiness, have been supremely happy during that period I have suffered so."

Mr. Wilson said he could not reveal the contents of the letters in their entirety as yet, as it might hamper the detectives in their search for the woman.

The name of another woman, whom Gallagher called "Oncie," was found in his diary. J. N. Conn, a janitor, said that when the family of D. F. Walshe, with whom Gallagher resided, lived at that address he frequently saw Gallagher with a brunette whom he thought was a relative of Mrs. Walshe. Mrs. Walshe denied Gallagher had been at the house of her relatives.

Clew in Gaelic Falls.

It was learned, however, that her sisters, Kathleen and Agnes Halloran, recently had moved from her home. "Oncie" is said to be a Gaelic diminutive for "Agnes." Both young women denied their acquaintance with Gallagher was more than casual.

Miss Agnes Halloran said Gallagher had told her he was very fond of a young woman, but that another man, quite wealthy, was able to provide her with luxuries he could not afford.

"He said his chief ambition was to make a few thousand dollars," she declared, "so he could ask the girl to marry him without sacrificing any of the comforts the rich man could provide."

The only other important development in the case yesterday was a statement by one of the witnesses to the murder, which tended to show that a mysterious woman was on the scene of the slaying last Friday night and was seen to kneel and place Gallagher's head in her lap. Mrs. George Fredericks declares she saw the woman.

"When I first saw Gallagher lying on the sidewalk," Mrs. Fredericks declared, "a woman was at his side. She knelt, took his head in her lap, and began talking to him. My husband rushed across the street, but she was gone when he got there."

It is believed Mrs. Fredericks may have seen Miss Margaret Rupp, who ran to where Gallagher lay and then rushed back into her home to phone for aid. Miss Rupp denies, however, that she had knelt or rested the dying man's head in her lap.

SEAPLANE STRANDED.

Hannibal, Mo., Nov. 24.—The naval seaplane NC-4 was still marooned on a sand-bar in the Mississippi river opposite Hannibal today, while the crew and mechanics worked in an attempt to repair the hole which was torn in the boat when it struck a submerged rock in landing here Saturday afternoon. After working all day Sunday, Lieut. Commander Albert C. Read announced that there was no chance of getting away today for the remainder of the trip which includes cities on the southern Mississippi.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME, JAMES

A prominent Dixon assistant postmaster will eat rabbit or roast beef on Thursday instead of turkey, all because of his generosity and absentmindedness. It seems that James—we almost published his name after promising not to—last week had his wife send their regrets in response to an invitation out to the holiday dinner, but he forgot all about this when Saturday evening he acquired a large turkey at the Elks' fair and immediately presented it to the lady to whom regrets had been sent. Until his wife, on their way home, read the entire criminal code of the Illinois statutes to him he had thought he was going to help eat that fowl.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS.

ALICE SLOANE IS CAUTIONED CHAPTER CXXIV

Suddenly I stopped laughing. What in the world ailed Everett, usually so self-possessed? He was flushing like a school girl. Never had I seen anyone look more sheepish. Then it dawned upon me: He HAD been to the beauty parlor, and he was ashamed.

"Don't look so ashamed," I said, "or I never shall be able to stop laughing." As the novel, easy way to meritment, "I can't see why you should be so embarrassed because you had your hair dyed. Women never mind."

"I know, Sandra," his blush deepened, "but it seems different in a woman. I did it because of you. I don't want you to be mortified by references to my age."

"One, to hear you talk, would suppose you a Methuselah, at least. You do not look a bit old to me, Everett, really you don't."

"That's because you are accustomed to me. I SEEM old to you, tho."

"Sometimes. At others you seem quite young," I answered honestly.

"Is it very noticeable?" he asked again referring to his hair.

"No, not at all. Had you been more gray, it might have been. But you only had a few gray hairs."

"Then I'll keep it up. For heaven's sake tell Alice Sloane not to talk about it," he blushed again as he mentioned Alice.

"I'll promise she will say nothing," I replied. I was awfully amused at this novel I tried to hide it. That my dignified, proper husband should spend time in a beauty parlor was to me about the most incongruous thing he could have done. Every time I thought of it I wanted to laugh.

I took particular pains to let Alice know how he felt right away. The next morning after breakfast I walked over to her house, and told her as she valued our friendship to keep still.

"Everett is horribly sensitive about it," I said after we had stopped laughing. "I really couldn't help laughing, altho I tried not to before Alice, who fairly screamed."

"He never would forgive you if he heard it anywhere. He would be sure to think you had told it because you were the one who put it in his head."

"Oh, it is too funny, Sandra," she went off into another peal of laughter. "Think of Mr. Graham doing a thing like that. If it had been anyone else it would not have seemed so ridiculous."

But he is so dignified.

"That is the very reason probably he will be so sensitive over it," I returned. "So be careful. I wish you wouldn't even speak of it to Duane." "I won't. Cross my heart!"

It was like Everett not to say anything when I simply remarked that I had called on Alice. I did not mention the fact that I had warned her; but he knew and so ignored the subject as was his way.

I never have known a man who could ignore things the way Everett could. He would simply act as if he had not heard, or as if nothing had either been said or had happened, when all the time he was acutely conscious of what was going on.

So, from that time, dyeing his hair was never mentioned. Yet he regularly had it done.

"Marrying a young wife seems to have given Graham a new lease on youth," I heard that odious Mr. Leveridge say one night at a dinner party.

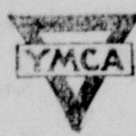

"Yes, he not only keeps his looks but he acts younger than he did ten years ago."

"He hasn't a gray hair, and I know he is older than I am," Leveridge grunted.

"What you don't know won't hurt you," I thought, delighted at having overheard the conversation.

Carl Santee has been elected leader of the group and will also cast the vote for the Dixon delegation at Friday afternoon's session, when State officers are elected. The boys are greatly interested in knowing they will hear several of the best speakers on the American platform. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, who is a prominent social worker, traveler and lecturer and was in charge of the Red Cross work in Russia during the war and who has spent some time in Alaska will deliver the address at the final session next Sunday evening. Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, also of Chicago, who was connected with Northwestern Medical Schools for many years and H. W. Gibson, State Boys' Work Secretary of Massachusetts and Rhode Island and who has been in Boys' work for more than twenty-five years are on the program. EXPECT GUNMEN TO PLEAD GUILTY

Three of the four alleged automobile bandits who chased over the countryside from Somanauk to Kaneville in a running gun fight in the early morning hours of September 18, and are now in the DeKalb county jail at Sycamore, will plead guilty when arraigned Dec. 8, State's Attorney Smith of DeKalb county said yesterday.

One to Fight.

All four of the men have pleaded not guilty, but all but Frank Krueger will probably change their plea the state's attorney said. Krueger intends to fight the case in court, it is believed. He is 30 years old, and is alleged to have a Chicago police record.

The other three are Barney Hunt, alias John B. Trainor; "Red Tom" Ryan, alias Joe Wheeler; and Harold Toomey. The men, it is charged, stole $500 worth of tires from the Breunig & Dolder garage at Somanauk. In the pursuit which followed, all but Joe Wheeler, dubbed the "patriarch" because of his white hair and 75 years were wounded.

A. W. Ashton, United States post-office inspector, identified Hunt as one of the most notorious safe blowers in the country, and a former partner of Eddie Fay, expert crackman, who was murdered in Chicago about 18 months ago.

Identified By Victim.

Investigation of the records of the men, and the identification of Hunt by Paul Morley of Plano, who was bound and gagged in the Dewey garage, is believed to be responsible for the change of plans.

In DeKalb county the men are being held on a charge of robbery. Earl Breunig is the complainant in an assault with intent to commit murder charge, pending in Kane Co. Breunig was shot in the finger at Kaneville during the pursuit.

Krueger still maintains that he is innocent of either charge.

SERMONS ON REVELATION.

The attendance Sunday at the services at the Grace Evangelical church, in connection with the series of sermons on the book of Revelation, were very good. A number of new faces were noticed in the congregation. The pastor, Rev. C. G. Unangst, spoke on "The Man With Eyes Like a Flame of Fire," in the morning and in the evening on "The Door Opened in Heaven." The subject of the sermon for this evening is, "Coming World Judgment," as described in the 6th chapter of Revelation. The following questions will be answered: "Will Peace be Taken from the Earth?" "Is the World Approaching its Greatest Calamity?" "Will the Kings and the Rich Men Suffer as Well as the Common People?"
The subject for Tuesday night: "The Cruel Reign of Two Beasts," as described in Revelation, Chapter 13.
A cordial invitation is given to all to attend these meetings.

CORN GAINED IN STRENGTH TODAY.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 25.—Fresh strength developed in the corn market today owing to more or less scantiness of country offerings and to hope of enlarged export demand. Besides, receipts were light, and it was expected that the arrivals would be readily absorbed by industrial requirements. Gossip was current also that settlement of the coal strike would mean enlarged purchasing by industries. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2¢ off to 1/2¢ advance, with December 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢ and May 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢, were followed by a material upturn all around.

Oats hardened with corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, including May at 76 1/2¢, the market reacted a little but then rose again. Provisions averaged higher, despite a sharp break in hog values. Sellers were scarce.

Later the corn market weakened temporarily as the result of a statement by Wheat Director Barnes that removal of the embargo on imports might reduce the price of some kinds of wheat 50¢ a bushel. Nevertheless, corn closed strong, 1¢ to 2¢ net higher, with December 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢ and May 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢.

Big shipments of meats together with commission house buying helped later to give the market strength.

GERMAN TROOPS IN BALTIC ARE IN BAD PLIGHT

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Berlin, Monday, Nov. 24.—German troops in the Baltic region are in a desperate situation, according to reports printed in the Tageblatt. Legions, including several free corps, have collected south of Mitau and have been attacked by Lettish forces at Kroku in an attempt to seize the railroad running from Mitau to Shavli. Five trains along this road carrying refugees from Mitau have been fired upon by Lithuanians, it is said, fifty persons being killed and 150 wounded. Efforts are being made to keep the railroad clear so that the refugees can escape. The general in command of the sixth German corps has his headquarters at Shavli, west of which city the roads are in control of the Germans.
